IMPORTANT

Some precautions to avoid issues

- Ensure your health condition is stable and expected to remain so during your trip. Your emergency medical travel policy provides coverage for emergencies resulting from unexpected illness, injury, and sickness while traveling abroad.
- Always contact our Travel Assistance provider AXA before incurring medical expenses to benefit from their international network and expertise in coordinating emergency care.
- Though your emergency medical travel insurance will cover health emergencies in countries or areas for which the Government of Canada has issued travel advisories, it may be extremely challenging for our travel provider to coordinate services or evacuate you should the need arise. Consider this before you travel to any areas under government travel advisories.

Please refer to our Travel Insurance FAQ for more information.

We wish you safe and wonderful travels!
